Defendants.	§

PLAINTIFF'S ORIGINAL COMPLAINT AND JURY DEMAND

Plaintiff Fort Weekend, LLC, by it's attorney of record, Robert S. Davis, as and for it's Complaint against Defendants Effias.Com, LLC, Nhu Ngoc Le and Eric Le a/k/a Eric Li, herein complains and alleges as follows:

I. PARTIES

- A. Plaintiff Fort Weekend, LLC (Plaintiff) is a Texas limited liability company based in Fort Worth, Texas that designs, creates, markets and sells children's sleeping bags, play mats, crib sheets and other products for children. Fort Weekend, LLC was started by two enterprising young mothers, Casey Davis Lebus and Margaret Marie Lebus, who invested their savings into an entrepreneurial venture as part of their American Dream. All the Plaintiffs suffered substantial financial damages and severe mental anguish and emotional distress.
- B. Effias.Com LLC (hereinafter Effias) is a limited liability company based out of California that broke it's contract with Fort Weekend, LLC and intentionally defrauded Fort Weekend and it's principles Casey Lebus and Margaret Lebus.
- C. Defendants Nhu Ngoc Le and her spouse Eric Le (also stated sometimes as Eric Li) are principals of Effias and together with Effias, and in conspiracy with Effias, intentionally defrauded Fort Weekend, LLC. The principal place of business and residence is, upon information and belief, San Jose, California, specifically 2870 Glen Ascot Way, San Jose, California 95418. The address where the Defendants store their materials and potentially their client's finished products is 950 University Avenue, Unit #1095, Los Gatos, CA. 95032. The Defendants' shipping address is 15466 Los Gatos Blvd #190325, Los Gatos, CA 95032.
- D. Jurisdiction is vested in this Court based on diversity of citizenship pursuant to 28 U.S.C. 1982, and the amount in controversy in this case is greater than $75,000.00.

II. FACTS

As detailed in the timeline below, Fort Weekend contracted with Effias for the manufacture of their line of children's products. Fort Weekend, LLC is a young company started by two sisters-in-law, who, as they each raised their young children, realized that there were no attractive and well designed lines of products for items such as children's sleeping bags for overnight stays, slumber parties and family holidays. With a great entrepreneurial spirit, and as members of a new generation pursuing the American Dream, Casey Davis Lebus and Margaret Lebus, with the unbridled support of their spouses, invested their savings and started Fort Weekend, LLC. After their very successful launch, a very successful marketing campaign and great sales of the first run of their products, Fort Weekend began looking for another manufacturer who could produce their products at a higher quality level. After receiving the sales pitch from Effias, Fort Weekend went through the labor intensive process of choosing designs, fabrics and combing through every detail with Effias. Fort Weekend had outside testing facilities test the fabric and the product samples from Effias to ensure product safety and quality. Fort Weekend examined the samples, corrected flaws in the samples and sent the changes to Effias. Effias falsely represented that the first large order of products was completed and ready to ship. Effias asked Fort Weekend to make final payment for the large shipment at the time that Effias made the misrepresentation that the product was being loaded on the "Ship" for transport. Effias then lied to Fort Weekend repeatedly, stating that the product order had been manufactured and placed in shipping. Effias made repeated misrepresentations that the delivery of the product was delayed for a variety of reasons, from a back up at the Panama Canal to intentional delays by the company that owned the Ship to negotiate future pricing. Then Effias falsely represented that there was a delay in customs, but the product would be shipped to Fort Worth soon. Effias then represented that the product had been shipped from the Port of Charleston, South Carolina to Fort Worth and would arrive in three days. The date for the alleged delivery from the Port of Entry came and passed, then Effias stopped responding to e-mails, text messages and phone calls. To this day, Effias has completely stopped responding to e-mails, text messages or phone calls from Fort Weekend. The following is a time line detailing the communications and transaction details between Effias and Fort Weekend.

2/15/24: Zoom Call. Eric sends zoom meeting link for a call at 9:30 CST. Discussed several notes and comments on sleeping bags, including Butterfly panels sewn upside down and need for play mat artwork to be lined up straight across entire circle.

2/15/24: Safety Requirement tags re- sent for The Crib Sheet, The Play Mat, The Sleeping Bag to confirm which tag corresponds with which product. TOPS had incorrect safety tags in place.

2/16/24: Fort Weekend explains safety tags mixup via email. Eric confirms via email they will get this right on bulk production.

2/19/24: Eric confirms he has received sample of The Nap Mat. Requests call for discussion.

2/19/24: Fort Weekend confirms we can discuss at 9:30 CST today.

2/20/24: Eric “issued the email completely.” Request to talk Wednesday 9:30 CST.

2/21/24: Eric has notes, so says a phone call is fine instead of Zoom. Call completed discussing The Nap Mat and production status of other goods.

2/26/24: Fort Weekend followup with previous manufacturer to ensure zippers are sent to Effias Vietnam warehouse or forwarder in China today or tomorrow.

2/26/24: Eric confirms he will be on the lookout and usually takes 4-5 days for zippers to arrive to factory.

3/4/24: Fort Weekend email to inquire if Effias warehouse received zippers.

3/4/24: Eric confirms they have not received zippers to forwarder in China or warehouse in Vietnam.

3/5/24: Fort Weekend another followup with previous manufacturer about zippers. Fort Weekend inquires about timeline for Effias custom zippers to be made if these zippers do not arrive from previous manufacturer.

3/5/24: Eric replies via email here has been express shipping craziness in China in the news and requests tracking for zippers. States YKK custom zippers with take 10 days for Effias to make.

3/5/24: Fort Weekend confirms we would like Effias to make the custom size YKK zippers instead of continuing to wait on from previous manufacturer. Eric confirmed he will proceed with this and confirmed these zippers are included in our production cost.

3/7/24: Fort Weekend confirms we will not be receiving zippers from previous manufacturer. Eric confirms Effias has ordered the zippers and is proceeding with sleeping bag production.

3/12/24: Eric sends strike off photo of new hot air balloon pattern and will make nap mat from this fabric.

3/14/24: Fort Weekend email to ask for update on production and shipment times so we can begin discussions about our pre-order for customers.

3/14/24: Eric states he will confirm Monday, but aims for 5/1-5/10 arrival.

3/18/24: Fort Weekend email that we are awaiting shipment information.

3/21/24: Fort Weekend email touching base on shipment information.

3/25/24: Fort Weekend email followup because no response from Effias regarding shipment.

3/25/24: Email from Eric: "i there, Sorry about the late reply. I thought I had replied last week. I tried this morning and that email was stuck in draft too. We were traveling and had spotty connection. My apologies. ERA between 5/8 and 5/10. We'll update you when we are ready to load onto the ship."

3/26/24: Fort Weekend agrees to plan for that arrival time frame and asks to keep posted.

3/26/24: Email from Eric: "on the road visiting customers. Some of them are not as nice as you guys....."

3/26/24: Fort Weekend inquires if this time frame includes time in customs.

3/26/24: Email from Eric: "yes. Clearance is quick (1 day) unless the container is pulled for x-ray but Customs. Deconsolidation takes 3 days usually. Forwarder will contact you a week before arrival to arrange drop off and duty payment etc. We probably will see you guys in the Summer/Fall when we visit customers from TX, FL to NC. I think we'll be ready to pack out in the next day or 2. Will keep you posted. We just need to clear the balance of the payment. Shipping cost we'll settle along with the duty when things land."

3/27/24: Fort Weekend pays invoice 03062803 for remaining balance of Sleeping Bags (Qty450) and Play Mats (Qty 450) $11,475.

3/28/24: Fort Weekend sends email to confirm final payments for goods have been made.

3/28/24: Email from Eric: "Got it. Thanks. We are using bigger boxes but they are not too heavy. Just easier to pack as they are bulky."

5/13/24: Email response from Eric noting that our shipment hasn't arrived yet, there is congestion at the Panama Canal but not a long delay.

5/15/24: Fort Weekend email to inquire about s/o still not being received.

5/15/24: Eric Email response regarding s/o: "They are done. Our fabric manager forgot to include in this week's shipment...They will be here next week."

5/16/24: Email from Eric noting that he believes the ship is through today and he will know in a few hours.

5/16/24: Another FYI email from Eric noting that "They are doing this on purpose" and that shipping rates have increased a lot in the last few weeks as 5/1 is the annual rate increase date. "They slow down to make it look busy."

5/21/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Effias regarding update and if ship made it through and has landed.

5/22/24: Email response from Eric noting that the delivery is through and should land tomorrow.

5/23/24: Email to Eric to inquire about s/o we still have not received.

5/28/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric asking if the ship is through and if we should expect delivery this week.

5/29/24: "Email response from Eric noting that the shipment landed and is being unloaded and cleared, will update tomorrow."

5/29/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric asking when we could anticipate delivery to us.

5/30/24: Email from Eric noting that part of the shipment would be here Monday and the other part will be here Wednesday.

6/3/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric asking if we should still be planning on receipt of the first portion of shipment today.

6/4/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric noting that we understand delays occur but to please call us today or respond via email to let us know when to anticipate delivery, we were expecting a call yesterday but it never came and neither did our shipment. Communication is key so please respond.

6/4/24: Email from Eric noting that he is sorry and that he has been on the road.

6/5/24: Email response from Fort Weekend to Effias regarding that we are looking forward to his call.

6/5/24: Phone call with Eric. He assures us shipment is coming that states there were customs issues in Charleston.

6/10/24: Fort Weekend received Hot Air Balloon s/o via mail. Confirm to move forward with option #2. Inquiring about pricing, but state we do not want to move forward with order until large order is received.

6/11/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric regarding needing an update as soon as possible, and when we should expect delivery.

6/11/24: Email response from Eric stating that he was on the phone sorting out customs payment and he wil update later today.

6/11/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Effias noting to please keep us updated and let us know if there is anything we can do to help expedite.

6/12/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Effias staying we need a response as to what is going on and whether or not we should be concerned about the shipment getting to us.

6/12/24: Email from Eric noting to please not be concerned and it just took longer than he thought because of "stupid forwarder."

6/13/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric Li asking if it has been released and is on the way.

6/14/24: Email to Eric asking to please provide a new estimated date of arrival and if we need to confirm anything with forwarder. We noted that historically the forwarder has been in direct contact with us before delivery and that we really just need to know when it is going to come.

6/14/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric regarding the number he provided for texting is not working, and we need to know ASAP if we can actually anticipate delivery next week, and if not we needed to communicate to our customers and send out an apology email. At this point, our shipment is over a month late.

6/14/24: Email from Eric to Fort Weekend noting that he is “out and about” and his reception is very spotty. Yes, the shipment will arrive next week for sure, and that they will be switching all shipments to air going forward. We have a cheaper method that takes 10-12 days and the cost difference between air is much more manageable.

6/17/24: Email from Fort Weekend to Eric regarding thank you for the update and we are happy to hear of a new plan going forward. Available to talk this morning whenever.

6/17/24: Email to Eric Li noting not to forget to call us today.

6/18/24: No call from Eric Li.

6/18/24: Email sent to Eric from Fort Weekend to please update us and tell us when delivery is arriving.

6/19/24: Email to Eric from Fort Weekend to give us an update and that we are concerned delivery isn't coming this week again. Can we get in contact with someone else again to help facilitate delivery.

6/19/24: Second email of the day to please call us. States he will call in the morning at 8 his time. Email states “flying today.”

6/20/24: Phone discussion with Eric at 11:30 CST. States he will have the shipment to us by Monday and will send us tracking today. (Last phone call with him).

6/21/24: Email to Eric to inquire about status and tracking of shipment. No Response.

6/22/24: Email to Eric to please let us know information. No Response.

6/23/24: Email to Eric requesting tracking information. No Response.

6/24/24: Email and calls to Eric to let him know we are about to have to start refunding customers if we do not get our shipment or have tracking. No Response.

6/24/24: Second email of the day requesting tracking and requesting refund of money paid until Fort Weekend receives the product.. No Response.

6/25/24: Email and calls to Eric asking what is going on. No Response.

6/26/24: Email Eric and Laila about status of what is going on. No Response. Phone calls to Eric not returned.

7/1/24: Email to Eric to gain information about shipment. No Response. Phone calls to Eric not returned.

7/11/24: Email to Eric asking for any information at all.

7/19/24: Finally received an email update from Eric stating that "e are in the process of winding down our operations because of cash flow issues. A series of unscrupulous supplier and subcontractor actions drained our resources very rapidly. We have laid off 95% of our staff in the last few weeks. We have some completed products, including yours, that we don't have access to as the logistics companies are holding the shipments. We are trying to avoid a bankruptcy filing in order to not jeopardize the shipments that are on hold. We are working on getting the shipments to customers but it's a struggle. We apologize but we believe it's the best course of action. We don't yet know when we can get them to you. But it seems like we are making progress. We'll update you once we have news."

7/19/24: Fort Weekend responded to Eric that we would be thrilled with any progress and to keep us updated.

7/22/24: Followed up with Eric regarding status and if any updates.

7/24/24: Followed up again with Eric and team, no response.

7/29/24: Received text message from Laila stating our 510 crib sheets were ready to ship out and once payment is made they can ship out.

8/5/24: Casey texted Laila asking for update on quote to have everything shipped out

8/5/24: Laila texted she got a quote and emailed me along with someone else from team with quote and next steps.

8/6/24: Text to Laila asking if there is anything that needs to be done

8/13/24: Crib sheets were finally delivered and received at Fort Weekend office.

8/16/24: Email to Eric and team asking for an update on our sleeping bags and play mats before end of day

8/19/24: Robert Davis emailed on Fort Weekends behalf

8/19/24: Email response from Eric: "Robert and Casey, We are in the process of filing for bankruptcy. We do not have possession of the sleeping bags. They are not in the US. We'll update you if/when they are available. Getting the crib sheets took a lot of effort"

8/20/24: Email to Eric Li begging for any information so that we could try to facilitate delivery of sleeping bags and play mats on our own. No responses.

9/5/24: Additional text to Laila asking if anything can be done

9/9/24: Additional text messages to Laila asking for help and letting her know we' file a scam report

9/30/24: Additional email to Laila, final attempt

Fort Weekend has not received any product shipments since receiving the 510 crib sheets, and Effias has not responded to any communications since August 13th, 2024.

III. CAUSES OF ACTION

A. Breach of Contract.

As set forth in the time line above and on the Invoices referenced above, Effias entered into an agreement that was designed to be performed in less than one year, the terms of the agreement are set forth in writing in the e-mails set forth above and in the invoices referenced above. Under the terms of the agreement, Effias agreed to manufacture and ship the children's sleeping bags and other products of Fort Weekend to Fort Worth, Texas. Effias breached that contract, and to date Effias has not attempted to perform and has not performed it's contractual obligations. This breach of contract and non-performance by Effias has resulted in untold damages to Fort Weekend, as set forth in the damages section below.

B. Fraud and/or Negligent Misrepresentation and Unjust Enrichment.

The Defendants made material representations that were false, the Defendants knew that the representations were false and/or made the misrepresentations recklessly without any knowledge of it's truth, the Defendants intended to induce the Plaintiff to act on those misrepresentations, and Plaintiff justifiably relied on those misrepresentations causing the Plaintiff severe injury. The Defendants also engaged in constructive fraud, fraudulent nondisclosure, and/or fraudulent inducement. In the alternative, Defendants engaged in negligent misrepresentations. Plaintiffs have suffered damages in the form of economic damages, including direct and special damages, including lost out of pocket damages for the money paid to manufacture the products that were never delivered, lost profits, exemplary damages, damage to the reputation of Fort Weekend, lost business and sales opportunities, mental anguish and emotional distress damages, attorney fees and costs of court. To the extent that the products paid for that are in existence but not delivered, Plaintiffs ask for an order requiring that any person or entity holding or possessing those products be ordered to immediately release those products to Plaintiff. Plaintiffs also ask for declaratory relief in the form of a Court Order and finding that Defendants breached their contract, committed fraud and were unjustly enriched. Damages in this case exceed $500,000.00, and attorney fees and costs will equal or exceed more than $250,000.00 through trial, and if appeal is necessary, attorney fees will equal or exceed $50,000.00 through appeal.

C. Civil RICO Claim

Effias is also liable under Federal Civil RICO provisions as part of an international conspiracy to defraud companies in the United States by using recent trade agreements between Vietnam and the United States to convince companies in the United States to enter into false and fraudulent transactions with Vietnamese Manufacturers through shell companies set up in California and other states that have low compliance and enforcement standards for LLCs and other business entities, which makes setting up shell companies easier. Consequently, these shell companies take on the appearance of legitimate companies engaging in trade with Vietnam and other Asian nations.

In this case there is a pattern of racketeering activity, culpable entities and persons with the requisite mens rea, an enterprise, and an effect on interstate commerce. A “pattern” of racketeering activity can be established through the “closed-ended continuity” involved in this fraudulent transaction and Effias attempt to continue this fraudulent activity through seeking additional orders and payments from Fort Weekend. The series of related predicate acts are set forth above and incorporated herein by reference, these acts were committed over a substantial period of time. Based upon information and belief, there is also an “open-ended continuity,” as the Defendants pose a threat of continuing criminal activity that extends beyond the initial period of time when the predicate acts were originally committed. The prohibited acts were “continuous and interrelated”—that is, the wrongful acts had similar goals, purposes, methods, and results. The Defendants are culpable entities and persons who have had the requisite mens rea and engaged in the prohibited acts. The culpable persons are the Defendants, as well as other as yet unidentified co-conspirators, who actually committed the RICO violation and conspired to do so. The “culpable persons,” in this case the Defendants and their as yet undetermined co-conspirators, are individuals or entities capable of holding a legal or beneficial interest in property. The culpable persons and entities, as set forth in the fact section above, possessed the mental state required to commit the alleged predicate offenses of wire, phone and mail fraud. The Defendants intended to commit the predicate acts of interstate and international fraud and had knowledge that those acts were illegal.

Acting together and in concert, the Defendants and their as yet unnamed co-conspirators, are associated individuals and entities are both formal and informal associations, and association-in-fact enterprises, that worked together in furtherance of a common illegal interest. The enterprise, Effias, is a distinct and separate legal entity from the culpable individual Defendants named in this suit.

The Predicate acts are the independent illegal racketeering activities noted above, which includes certain specifically enumerated federal crimes and certain state offenses which are prohibited and are deemed "predicate acts" necessary to state a claim under RICO. The list of prohibited activities includes, among others, wire or mail fraud, which the Defendants have clearly engaged in committing as set forth above in the Fact Section of this Complaint. Based upon information and belief, Fort Weekend was not the only entity or individual defrauded through this RICO enterprise.

The funds which were fraudulently obtained from Fort Weekend through wire and mail fraud, constituted racketeering income, and those funds were invested in an enterprise, including Effias and other formal and informal associations and associations in fact, due to a pattern of racketeering activity, the operation of a RICO enterprise, and a RICO conspiracy. Plaintiffs rely on 18 U.S.C. § 1962(c), which includes conducting the affairs of an enterprise through a common pattern of racketeering activity.

Plaintiffs are entitled to treble damages and punitive damages under Rico.

Plaintiffs reserve the right to amend or supplement their pleadings as further facts emerge.

IV. CONCLUSION

Wherefore, premises considered, the Plaintiffs are entitled to damages, and seek damages equal to or in excess of $500,000.00 on their Breach of Contract claims. Plaintiffs are entitled to damages, and seek damages equal to or in excess of $500,000 on their Fraud claims. Plaintiff's are entitled to treble damages, and seek treble damages of $1,500,000 on their Civil RICO claims. Plaintiff's seek punitive damages in an additional amount of $1,000,000 to punish the Defendants for the intentional harm that they caused to Plaintiffs through their wanton, malicious and/or grossly negligent acts. Plaintiff's also seek injunctive relief in the form of an order to impound any products manufactured by, shipped by or shipped to Effias that are in any port in the United States, and any and all other equitable relief, including unjust enrichment, a declaratory judgment that Defendants engaged in Breach of Contract, Fraud and Rico violations. Plaintiffs also seek their attorney fees and costs of Court, which the Plaintiffs believe will be in excess of $250,000.00 through trial, and for any and all other relief, at law or in equity, to which Plaintiffs may show themselves justly entitled.
